A WORD TO OUR CONTEMPORARIES THROUGHOUT THE UNION.—A grand mass meeting in this city on the 7th of next May, has been made at the instance of men of all parties, from different portions of the State. As expressed by the terms of the call itself, it is put forth in no party spirit nor for the achievement of any mere party aim. In view of the political divisions hitherto existing in the State, the language of the call has been clearly framed so as to embrace the true men of all parties who, prompted by the exalted motives of patriotism, are ready, at this time, to discard the differences of the past, and those old debts which can never be resolved, that they may stand upon the living issues of the day, solidly arrayed against the revolutionary elements which, as represented by the majority of Congress, are endeavoring to destroy the Constitution and the Union. Impressed as we are with the solemn conviction that the people, to whom he has exquisitely appealed, must sustain Andrew Johnson in the noble and statesmanlike position assumed by him upon the issues now before the country, or else submit to the domination of sectional fanaticism in the councils of the nation, we therefore urge the people of Kentucky to assemble in mass convention that they may, without respect to old party names, unite in a resolution more glorious to our free institutions than the late armed rebellion would have had it. And, now, we ask, are our contemporaries, throughout Kentucky, ready to join in a movement which, under no party name nor party banner, will surely inaugurate an era of good feeling among all patriots in the midst of us? We believe that a common cohesion now runs through hearts of nine-tenths of the people of this Commonwealth, and that a spirit of concord and mutual expression which shall cheer and encourage our patriotic President, and be well understood by the entire nation.

With this great object in view, we earnestly request our collateral brethren in the State, regardless of past political distinctions, to co-operate with us, or allow us to co-operate them, in urging every county in the Commonwealth to send delegates to the grand Johnson mass meeting in this city, on the 7th of next May!

SIXTH PARTIAN IN THE PATRIOT.—President Johnson, in a conversation with Mr. Raymond, of New York, a few days since, told him that "he was not a party man, and meant to stick to the party line." He is, however, a member of the Whig party, and has been elected to the Senate of the United States, who, by an overwhelming majority, is endeavoring to convert the principles of the Constitution and the Union, as we understand them, into a radical majority in the estimation of every patriotic man. In view of the political divisions hitherto existing in the State, the language of the call has been clearly framed so as to embrace the true men of all parties who, prompted by the exalted motives of patriotism, are ready, at this time, to discard the differences of the past, and those old debts which can never be resolved, that they may stand upon the living issues of the day, solidly arrayed against the revolutionary elements which, as represented by the majority of Congress, are endeavoring to destroy the Constitution and the Union. Impressed as we are with the solemn conviction that the people, to whom he has exquisitely appealed, must sustain Andrew Johnson in the noble and statesmanlike position assumed by him upon the issues now before the country, or else submit to the domination of sectional fanaticism in the councils of the nation, we therefore urge the people of Kentucky to assemble in mass convention that they may, without respect to old party names, unite in a resolution more glorious to our free institutions than the late armed rebellion would have had it. And, now, we ask, are our contemporaries, throughout Kentucky, ready to join in a movement which, under no party name nor party banner, will surely inaugurate an era of good feeling among all patriots in the midst of us? We believe that a common cohesion now runs through hearts of nine-tenths of the people of this Commonwealth, and that a spirit of concord and mutual expression which shall cheer and encourage our patriotic President, and be well understood by the entire nation.

With this great object in view, we earnestly request our collateral brethren in the State, regardless of past political distinctions, to co-operate with us, or allow us to co-operate them, in urging every county in the Commonwealth to send delegates to the grand Johnson mass meeting in this city, on the 7th of next May!

WHAT DOES IT MEAN?—Hon. George L. Bowditch, of Massachusetts, is one of the Committee of Fifteen on "Reconstruction"—the revolutionaries have managed to smuggle the secession documents into the Constitution, so that it is now in effect. It is the first step toward the dissolution of the Union, and the last step toward the destruction of the country. Let the people of Kentucky, regardless of past disputes or party names amongst themselves, unite in a mass convention, and send delegates to the national convention, and let the whole nation know that they are ready to join in a movement which, under no party name nor party banner, will surely inaugurate an era of good feeling among all patriots in the midst of us?

WHAT DOES IT MEAN?—We understand that Hon. Mr. Bowditch, who is here for a short time, is in favor of a mass convention in connection with a friend, that the situation is so perilous we need not be surprised if hostilities are to be opened. Let us hope that he will do his best to inform the public of what is to be done.

WHAT DOES

ARMED NECESSITY.—We have the attention of our readers to the card of Mr. Crowe, of Richmond, Virginia, which appears in our columns this morning. The appeal is prompted by the necessities felt by the congregation of Mr. Crowe's church in Richmond, where the people, unlike our own, have deeply felt the ravages of the recent war. We hope it will be readily and most liberally responded to by the people of our flourishing city.

PEOPLES' MASS CONVENTION.

In response to numerous requests from men of all parties, in various portions of the State, we announce that a grand mass meeting of the friends of President Johnson's restoration policy will assemble in this city on WEDNESDAY, THE SEVENTH OF NEXT MAY. All the counties of the State are earnestly requested to send delegates to the meeting, irrespective of old party issues or party name, that the people of Kentucky may clearly express their determination to sustain the President against the radical elements of the country.

ELECTION OF POLICEMEN.—An ordinance is pending before the General Council, providing for the appointment and election of police officers, the Mayor reserving the right now exercised by members of the department to be elected upon at the session to-morrow night. This ordinance will be repealed. The reformers in the law will be repealed.

The reformers in the new ordinance is easily made. It will prove very effective.

The cities in the country have found it necessary to constitute a Board of Police Commissioners. Such a body of men, having to perform the special duty of appointing and managing the police officers of the city, would make wiser selections of men to fill these important offices, add greatly to the efficiency of the department, and the public would be assured of a very pleasant job.

Many other changes are proposed in the passage of the new ordinance which it is urged. They doubtless will be urged at the meeting to-morrow night. The advocates of this reformation, as well as economical, ordinance should include every member of each Board of the City Council.

HOUSES FOR LEASE.—On Friday night, February 20th, a house was stolen from Dr. G. W. Foeman, of Nelson county, by John Cheshire, a noted character of that region. After taking the house from the State he proceeded to Jeffersonville, Indiana, and induced a man named Charles High to trade with him. He then rode the horse obtained from High to New Albany, where he sold it on the 22d. After the above transaction was concluded to his satisfaction, the thief rode back near Taylorsville, where he was captured by Dr. John Wilson. Friday was again in New Albany endeavoring to dispose of him, but was captured by the police of that city. On examination by the city court of Louisville, he was forwarded to Bardstown, where he was held for trial. A trial date was set for April 1st. The trial date was adjourned, and the court adjourned, at the request of his mother, W. G. Parsons, charged with embezzlement from Foeman, and was discharged without prejudice.

UNITED STATES DISTRICT COURT—NEW ALBANY.—A suit was filed at the accustomed hour of 10 o'clock, on the premises of the court, for the trial of a case between Dr. G. W. Foeman and the State, to be tried at Jeffersonville, Indiana, and induced a man named Charles High to trade with him. He then rode the horse obtained from High to New Albany, where he sold it on the 22d. After the above transaction was concluded to his satisfaction, the thief rode back near Taylorsville, where he was captured by Dr. John Wilson. NEWARK, N. J.——The father of a noted man, confined in the Military Prison at this post, is to be sent North at 12 o'clock to-day, under the charge of Brevet Major-General Andrew Bacheleter, Chief Quartermaster Department of Kentucky. Jim Davis (garrison), sentenced to be hanged by the neck until dead, committed by the President to ten years imprisonment at the Albany, N. Y., Penitentiary. No. 2 pilot, Captain George H. Brown & Co., New York, has been removed to the custody of the State to be tried at the bar of the Court of Appeals, on the 1st of March. The trial date was set for April 1st. The trial date was adjourned, and the court adjourned, at the request of his mother, W. G. Parsons, charged with embezzlement from Foeman, and was discharged without prejudice.

KENTUCKY REGISTER.—This is the name of a weekly newspaper recently established in the flourishing little town of Richmond, Madison county, Ky. It is edited by W. H. Brown & Co.

The first number of the Register is remarkable to the ability of its editor and the typographical taste and skill of its publishers. Mr. B. H. Brown, the Register, is in the city, and will to-day call upon our liberal business men for advertising favors. With real pleasure we commend Mr. B. H. Brown to our merchants not only as courteous and worthy young gentlemen, but as editing a paper secure a wide trade.

Brown is giving a wide circulation throughout the monied counties of the state, Congressional District, and it will be a most decided medium for advertisers.

INCREASED DRAINSAGE.—One of the most valuable civic improvements now in progress is the dredging and extension of the Southern ditch, beyond Broadway, for the purpose of more effectually draining the lands in that vicinity. The city Engineer, Mr. George Stever, is now engaged upon the plans necessary to the completion of the work authorized by the City Council. This improvement will not only enhance the value of property in the Southern extremities of the city, but will do more for the health of the people than would beched doctors.

REVIEW.—The Coroner yesterday had an inquest at a house on Gray street, between Preston and Jackson, upon the body of an infant, daughter of Amanda Brown, a free woman of color. The jury found that the child died on the 1st of March from natural causes. The law was violated by the burial of the infant on the above premises, and hence its disinterment for inquest.

DROPPING THE PIKEON.—This swindling operation seems to have a great many varieties in and about the city. But one particular manage to drop in upon us, and that is the pikeon. The Charles Gordon tried himself in the place last at Portland yesterday. He victimized some unscrupulous youth to the time of about forty dollars. The pikeon-dropper was carried off to jail by Officers Harmon and Black.

ACQUITTANCE.—W. G. Parsons, who was arrested several days ago upon the charge of defrauding his employer, Messrs. G. W. and H. Brown, of the Great Western Steam Bakery, corner Second and Jefferson streets, had an examination in the Police Court yesterday morning, and was discharged uncharged.

THE LAW COUPON.—We learn that the remains of this gallant Kentucky soldier, who was killed on the 28th of March, 1864, near Dallas, Ga., are soon to be brought home and interred at Danville.

THE COURTS.—The Court of Common Pleas, Hon. F. B. Morris, judge, is still to sit yesterday. No cases of general interest were tried yesterday. The dockets will not be cleared before the last of next week.

THE OLD SIGN.—The old sign on the front of Wood's Theater were effaced yesterday, and the pleasant-sounding title "Academy of Music" inscribed in their stead.

NEWS SUMMARY.

The Illinois Court Ruled that the transportation of horses during the war was defeated. Mr. Charles W. Smith, resident of Marshall street, between Clay and Franklin, claims his death about four o'clock yesterday evening by the accidental discharge of a self-loading pistol in his own hands. The facts of this melancholy accident are that Mr. Smith, at the hour above stated, had occasion to visit his stable in search of a pet chicken, and while feeding along the crooks of the stable, near the feed trough, he came in contact with a human face. His hand struck the face, and he found his hand stung with a fresh wound in his left breast, and his hand dyed with his own gore. As a small self-loading pistol belonging to the boy was afterwards found in the hatbox, the supposition is that Mr. Smith, after climbing up to the loft, the weapon was discharged by accident and caused his death. The coroner had an inquest on the body, and, before the trial of the pistol, returned a verdict of "dead by the hand of some person unknown to the jury." We deeply sympathize with the parents and family of the deceased in this heartrending bereavement.

DISASTER IN KENTUCKY BY ACCIDENTAL SHOT.—Boogard Smith, aged seventeen years, son of Mr. Charles W. Smith, resident of Marshall street, between Clay and Franklin, died, was buried on a plot of ground owned by his father, in the cemetery of Hamilton county, Kentucky, on Saturday evening. The boy was in the act of shooting a pheasant, a gun being held in his hands, when it accidentally discharged, and he fell to the ground, mortally wounded. He died about half past nine o'clock, and was buried at 10 o'clock.
